- Security: The Fixed Rate loan must be secured by a property. In some circumstances a guarantee (subject to ING's credit lending guidelines) supported by property will also be considered.
- Variation Options: The Fixed Rate loan includes optional variations such as loan portability, substitution of security, principle reduction, an increase to the loan amount (subject to ING's credit lending guidelines and potential break costs) and repayment switch.
- Maturity options: At the end of the fixed rate term customers are notified and provided with what options are available (such as refixing for another period). If no change is requested, the loan will convert to ING's Mortgage Simplifier, which is a variable rate loan.
 - If a customer requests to refix prior to the fixed rate loan maturity, variation fees and break costs may apply.
 - Customers have the option of the Fixed Rate Lock In feature when refixing their home loan, however ING will not hold the rate for more than 90 days and payment of the Fixed Rate Lock In fee is required.

Note: In the instance of a loan split, in which a customer has the option to delegate loan amounts across more than one home loan product, conditions apply only to the portion of the loan in which is deemed a Fixed Rate Loan.

Description of likely objectives, financial situation and needs of customers in the target market

- Likely objectives: Customers who are seeking a home loan with a fixed interest rate for a period of 1 to 5 years, and want certainty regarding their monthly or fortnightly repayments during this period.
- Likely financial situation: Customers who meet ING's credit lending guidelines.
- Likely needs: Customers who need funds to refinance an existing home loan, or to purchase residential property for owner occupier or investor purposes.

Classes of consumers for whom the product is clearly unsuitable

The Fixed Rate loan would not suit customers who do not meet ING's credit lending guidelines. For example, this could be someone who does not have a steady income, customers who are under the age of 18, customers who are not an Australian resident, or customers who have expenses that indicate they cannot afford the loan. The Fixed Rate loan is not suitable for customers who require an offset facility, the ability to redraw funds, a variable interest rate, or the ability to make additional repayments of $10,000 or more in a year without break costs applying.

ING Call Centre staff are trained to give information about the product, but not advice around the suitability to a customer's individual situation and are required to follow scripting when communicating with a customer about the product.

Alternatively, a customer can discuss the Fixed Rate loan directly with an ING accredited broker. ING takes steps to ensure that its accredited brokers hold the required qualifications and authorisations, carry out accreditation information sessions and receive guidance material in relation to ING's processes and procedures.

The Fixed Rate loan can only be offered to customers after ING collects the required customer information and applies its credit lending guidelines.

In case of a comparison site provider, information about the product on their site must direct prospective customers to review the relevant ING product information page and include details of where to find the TMDs.

Why the distribution conditions and restrictions will make it more likely that the customers who acquire the product are in the target market

The distribution channels and conditions make it likely that the customers who acquire the product are in the target market by:

- ensuring that customers will have been provided with sufficient information about the product;
- ensuring ING call centre staff are trained to understand the key product attributes and the target market for the products they discuss with customers;
- requiring customers to provide specific information, disclosure and evidence to confirm they meet eligibility requirements for the product and ING's lending criteria; and
- ensuring that only customers who meet the eligibility criteria for the product and ING's lending criteria are offered the product.

Review triggers

The review triggers that would reasonably suggest that the TMD is no longer appropriate include:

- There is a significant dealing in the Fixed Rate loan which is not consistent with this determination.
- A significant increase beyond expected levels in complaints or a significant change in the nature of complaints relating to the product.
- There is a material change in the eligibility requirements for the product, our lending criteria or key features or terms and conditions of the product.
- There is a material change in the way we distribute the product.
- A material change in law, a court decision, or ASIC regulatory guidance that impacts the Fixed Rate loan.
- Any other event occurs or information is received that reasonably suggests the determination is no longer appropriate (for example, a proportionately high number of customers beyond expected levels pay out or refinance their loan within 2 years).

Review periods

First review date: 05 October 2022

Periodic reviews: The TMD will be reviewed annually within each consecutive 12 month period.
